Notes:

1. Anthropology is a program designed to acquaint students with human diversity through a broad approach to the study of people including the prehistoric, biological, and cultural perspectives. Because of its wide coverage, anthropology provides a versatile background that serves as a solid foundation not only for transfer students in anthropology but for many fields and vocations.
2. Some of the above courses may have prerequisites. See the catalog or schedule of classes.
3. The Associate Degree requires completion of the major with a "C" or better grade in each course plus the completion of the General Education requirements (either CSU GE breadth or IGETC) for a total of 60 semester units with a 2.0 or better GPA.
4. Some courses may not have an associated C-ID, please see catalog or counselor for more information.
